ACCUSATIONS AGAINST ABBOTT ARE NUMEROUS

Former Indian Official Said to Have Used Agents to Do Political Work.

A statement was made public yester-day by Senator Joseph P. Robinson, of Arkansas, chairman of the joint com-mission appointed to investigate Indian affairs. in which he gave the details of charges that have been lodged with the commission against former Acting Com-missioner of Indian Affairs F. H. Abbott,

According to Senator Robinson, it is charged that Mr. Abbott used Indian agents to build up a political machine, that he retained in the service "corrupt and inefficient agents;" that he used Indian agents as political scouts to work for his appointment as commissioner of Indian Affairs; that he permitted ex-travagance by subordinates; that he per-mitted extravagant expense accounts to be allowed; was guilty of lavoritism and allowed the railroads to exchange their selections of worthless lands in Indian reservations for valuable lands in the public domain and, finally, that he re-tained in the service a superintendent who was engaged in the illicit liquer husiness.

Senator Robinson stated that Mr. Ab senator roomson stated that Mr. Ab-bott would be given an opportunity to be heard. The charges for the most part emanate from William E. Johnson, for-merly a special agent in the Indian serv-ice, instructed to suppress the trade in liquor among the Indians.

TO COST BAR LICENSE

A virtual agreement on a report has been reached by the subcommittee which investigated the alleged violations of the excise law the night of the last Georgetown-Virginia football trict Committee early this week.

The report does not recommend the revocation of the license of the Eb bit House, nor does it suggest any drastic remedial action. It contains no legislative recommendation at all. One violation of the excise law is reported as established by the inquir conducted by the committee. This vio lation is in the case of a young boy who, according to the defense, was "framed" by officers of the Anti-Saloon League to bring about the violation.

The report does not comment upon the circumstances of this case. No cognizance is taken in the report of testimony touching upon the class or condition of patrons of the hotel. The committee finds that the hilarity which followed the Georgetown victory was of a pretty rough order at times, but does not comment caus-tically upon this. The first report the committee was asked to sign, prepared by Chairman Caraway, called for the revocation of the Ebbitt House bar
